

What will it be like a few months from now? Like this or a modified mall, tree-lined sidewalks with parking in the center and soft music playing? Or will it remain like this? Public hearing on the Town Center Beautification project should answer that question next Tuesday night. In foreground in near future may sit a kiosk, centerpiece of the four blocks of modified mall extending in four directions from this intersection.

Tuesday--important day for Town Center project

Less than one week from now, Upland will know the answer to the fate of the town revitalization project--public hearing is scheduled for 7 p.m., Tuesday, Jan. 23.

It has been a long time, with much work behind the scenes since the Chamber of Commerce launched Downtown Revitalization efforts along with other phases of a three to five year program of work suggested by the Jan., 1966, Kruss Report.

What is to be decided next Tuesday night is the formation of the Town Center

Beautification District. City Council will conduct the public hearing, and vote for the project if there is less than a 50% protest. More than 50% protest would kill the district.

City Council, as Councilman Ronald Rossiter has pointed out several times, is the agent of the downtown property owners. More than 60% of them requested formation of the district, and Council is carrying through.

There was a one-third protest at the first scheduled hearing last month, but because of high bids, which were rejected, the contracting arrangement for the work was changed and the new hearing set. Estimated costs were also scaled down because of the bidding change and deletion of a few frills.

Bids will be opened Thursday and contractors will submit figures in their own specialties, instead of one bid for all work, as was done last time.

This time the contracts are divided as follows:

- Concrete, masonry drainage and paving.
- Electrical lighting and sound system.
- Kiosks and benches.
- Irrigation system.
- Landscaping.
- Signs and trash receptacles.

Changing from 1911 to 1913 Act proceedings also permits the separate bids so specialists in each field, even small local contractors, can bid, without getting into the bond business, as was the case with straight 1911 Act methods.

Downtown Upland, if the District goes through, will have four blocks of modified mall, a kiosk at Second and Ninth, and extending a block in each direction from it, landscaped parking in the center of what are now through streets.

Parking lots will ring the downtown center. Most are now under construction. (Continued On Page 7)

'Look at Upland'

Industrial development quartet to highlight Chamber lunch Monday

Four industrial development leaders from Los Angeles will highlight a quarterly membership meeting of the Upland Chamber of Commerce at noon Monday, Jan. 22, at the Upland Inn.

The four men on the panel, two of whom have been chosen industrial realtor of the year in the last five years, represent four major companies interested in industrial development in Southern California.

They are: Robert W. Hauptli, manager industrial development Department, Santa Fe Railway Co.

F.J. Rohring, manager of area development Dept., Southern California Edison Co.

Kenneth B. Worthen, area development manager, sales Department, Southern California Gas Co., and J.L. Gescheider, head of Area Development Services, Bank of America, Los Angeles headquarters. He is the man who worked with the local Chamber to put the program together.

Russ Hazen, chairman of the Chamber's Industrial committee, was responsible for arranging for the panel of plant locators to make the trip to Upland.

The four men will each make a short presentation at the luncheon meeting, and will answer some questions anyone has.

They won't do it "cold," but beforehand will spend a half day making a survey of Upland industrial land that is open for development.

Industrial development is one of the top items on the Chamber's program of work.

Roaches

Written report clears city sewer of blame

"It is highly probable that the sewerage system is not responsible for the roach infestation in the area."

That statement was taken from a report from the San Bernardino County Health Service report to the City of Upland resulting from the roach inspection trip by state, county and city sanitarians in north Upland last week. They did find some roaches.

The report also stated that "...the general sanitation of the area viewed from the backyard and alley approaches revealed several undesirable conditions."

Following is the complete report:

On Jan. 4, 1968, the City of Upland requested our Department to conduct an investigation of their sewerage system in the areas of 14th St. and 2nd Ave. to determine if cockroach infestations were in the city sewerage system.

The survey was made on Jan. 8, 1968 in conjunction with the State Health Department, Bureau of Vector Control.

The following data was collected: Of 34 manhole inspections, 2 were found to contain the roaches, but 32 had no infestation; 14 water meter boxes were inspected, only one of which was infested; three gas meter boxes were inspected, none of which was infested.

The specimens found were the Oriental Roach (Blattella Orientalis). In respect to the number of roaches found, the water meter box harbored one mature roach and the two infested sewer manholes had 25 to 50 and 2 immature stages of roaches, respectively. This indicates that the sewerage system is capable of supporting the roach infestation but judging from the number of manholes with no roaches present, it is highly probable that the sewerage system is not responsible for the roach infestation in the area.

On the other hand the general sanitation of the area viewed from the backyard and alley approaches revealed several undesirable conditions. The storing of garbage and refuse in containers that were not vermin proof. The maintaining of old building structures and the storing of firewood and lumber in such ways as to encourage roach harborage and development. In some places the improper disposal of plant debris was also noted.

The inspection of the Mendenhall residence at 1595 N.

2nd Ave., did reveal an infestation of the Oriental roach. It was noted the home was not roach proof as they could gain entrance to the home through pipe entrances into the house or via the spacing between the front door and door sill. The garage area also needed a good cleanup in order to apply effective treatment and control of the roach infestation. During the survey we talked to several home owners and they all commented that they had experienced some roach problems over the last year or longer.

The following persons participated in the survey: Robert Soroker, State Bureau of Vector Control, Robert Prochaska, R. S., Charles Plamondon, Assistant Sanitarian, of the County Public Health Department, Mr. Travers, Administrative Services Officer, Mr. Whitfield, Director of Public Works of the City of Upland.

RECOMMENDATIONS

It has been found that chlordane as a 5% water emulsion is most successful in sewers and similar environments. In general, one treatment per year is sufficient except where manholes are severely infested.

In roach control studies done in the San Diego area by Mr. Mackie, Entomologist for the San Diego County Public Health Department, roach movement from manhole to manhole appears to be limited and the populations are concentrated in the manholes, not the laterals. Therefore coat the walls of the manholes with the chlordane spray, rather than attempting to spray each individual roach. This treatment can be applied to water and gas meter boxes.

In view of the aforementioned environmental conditions found in the community area surveyed, plans should be made to inform the general public on what steps they can take to control and eliminate cockroaches on private premises and that the City will undertake to control the cockroach problem in the areas under control of the city.

Roaches came into the Mendenhall residence at 1595 N. 2nd Ave. (recently denied) and called the press.

Mendenhall suffered a back-up of sewage into his home when sewers got blocked a year ago. He has blamed his roach problem on that incident.

MWD bloc vote discussed

Sacramento has been booming with accusations and criticisms brought forth recently by persons opposed to the Metropolitan Water District bloc voting procedure that effectively rejected plans to construct the Rialto Reach.

In a conference last week,

Sen. William Coombs, R-Rialto, said that he will introduce legislation at the State Capital to prevent bloc voting within the MWD.

Coombs said that the current method of voting on the board is what blocked construction of the reach which is planned to feed Feather River water from the Devil Canyon to Chino Basin.

Donald D. Stark, counsel for Chino Basin Municipal Water District, added further objections to the MWD procedures last week when, before the Assembly Committee on Water, he called the MWD unit vote system, "a real and proven bastion of arbitrary and indefensible pork barrel politics."

Stark blasted MWD head Joseph Jensen, when he told the committee that, "the abuse of this provision (unit vote) has sorely tainted the accomplishments of one of the dynamic leaders of the MWD, in whose hands this procedural provision has been used in repeated attempts to defeat, divert, or materially damage the work of the state in carrying out its commitment to deliver water through the East Branch Aqueduct to those agencies lying in the hinterland east and south of Los Angeles."

Under the unit vote system, each member of the agency of MWD is entitled to a number of directors depending upon its assessed property evaluation. Each member gets one directorship plus another for each $750 million in assessed valuation.

Occupational center-school gets CUHS board support

Development of a regional occupational center in the West End was given support Monday when the Chaffey Union High School District Board of Trustees directed Superintendent Allan Smith to send a letter to the Chino Unified School District indicating the board's interest in participating in future discussions of this proposal.

The decision followed a report by Smith on a meeting of joint school boards last Wednesday called at the request of the Chino Unified board. Nearly 50 board members and administrators Center of interest at the joint meeting was the facts relating to the recently developed Southern California Occupational Center located in Torrance. Smith said.

This facility is scheduled to open Feb. 5 with 500 students -- 8,000 capacity when completed. It was created under the joint powers agreement involving six school districts and 16 high schools with planning and development provided through federal education grants.

Vocational training offered includes industrial arts, business education, data processing, nursing, and dental technicians. Participating students will spend part of each day at the "home school" for basic educational needs and part at the center for vocational subjects.

A board of trustees consisting of one member from each school district sets the policies and determines the management of the center. Financial support is obtained from an assessment made on each district, based on assessed valuation, plus a district tax involving up to 10 cents for operations and 5 cents for capital outlay and buildings. The number of students allowed per district for center training is based on average daily attendance.

In other board action a claim for personal injuries amounting to $10,040.85 was denied. The claim was submitted to the district on Jan. 2 by an attorney on behalf of Monte I. Gillespie for injuries said to have been received in a fight on the Chaffey High School campus Sept. 29 with Donald Wayne Williams.

DVM's praise pound

Editor, Upland News
Upland, California

Dear Sir:

We would like to publicly congratulate Chief John Westly and the Upland City Council for the major improvements at the City Pound.

These improvements have included a new roof, new and stronger chain link fencing, cement work, adequate heating, addition of nine new kennels and proper door closures. In addition the new truck that Poundmaster Jerry Holloway drives is magnificent.

All Uplanders should be pleased and proud to know that unwanted, unclaimed animals as well as those awaiting their owner's are being cared for in more than adequate facilities.

Sincerely,

Counsel says posts incompatible

The County Board of Supervisors concurred with the County Counsel's office when the office issued a report that at least two of the four positions held by a West End special district officer were termed 'incompatible.'

Supervisor Ruben Ayala, who has directed a series of pointed questions over operations of the Chino Basin Water Conservation District, requested the legal opinion several weeks ago.

At that time, he noted that the CBWCD secretary-manager Robert S. Walline also holds offices as director of the Chino Basin Municipal Water District, advisory board member of Zone 1, San Bernardino County Flood Control District and is secretary-manager of the private utility firm, the West End Consolidated Water Co.

Offices of the conservation district have been located in the water company's Upland office for the past several months.

In the report presented by Ayala and prepared by Donald R. Egan, deputy county counsel, the latter stated: "...The phrase 'conflict of interest' and the phrase 'incompatibility of office' are often used synonymously but there are definite distinctions. ... as far as the question under consideration is concerned, we have not been informed of any facts ... which would indicate a conflict of interest."

The attorney explained that a conflict of interest would be a specific action taken in which an official is directly personally interested or if he is in a position to significantly influence such an action.

"However, a court would most likely hold that the office of secretary-manager of the Water Conservation District is incompatible with the office of director of the Municipal Water District because of the overlap of territory and functions of the two districts," Egan reported.

In a heretofore unrevealed aspect of Walline's many faceted official duties, the deputy county counsel said:

"... If the question being considered concerned dual service as a director of each district, we would feel quite certain that a court would find the offices incompatible."

According to records of the CBWCD and CBMWD, Walline's tenure on the water district began with election in Nov. 1960. His second four-year term expires this year. However, for six years -- from the fiscal year 1960-

61 to April 1966, when he resigned to take the secretary - manager post--Walline also was a director of the water conservation district.

His wife, Elaine, now serves as bookkeeper for the CBWCD and the CBMWD. This latter opinion on "incompatibility" of duties as director of two overlapping public agencies would also apply to Benjamin Allen, who is president of board of Monte Vista County Water District and a director of Chino Basin Water Conservation District.

Upon receipt of the legal opinion Monday, Supervisor Ayala said, "I think the people involved in this should be so notified."

The board concurred and ordered copies sent to the Chino Basin Water Conservation District and the Chino Basin Municipal Water District.

Car wreck

Mayor suffers injuries; better

Mayor James Christensen was listed as being in "satisfactory" condition at Kaiser Hospital, Fontana, Tuesday after a one-car automobile accident about 5 a.m. Saturday near Delano.

Christensen suffered several fractured ribs and two cracked vertebrae in the crash, but will not have to be placed in traction, Mrs. Christensen told the News.

She was a passenger in the car, was shaken up but escaped with relatively minor injuries, but stiff and sore.

She managed to climb from the wreckage of the car through the back window, and the Mayor managed to get out also, but lay still awaiting an ambulance knowing he had a back injury of some kind.

He was hospitalized in Delano, and flown from Fresno to Rialto Monday.

The accident that demolished the Christensen car occurred about a half mile outside Delano. The Christensens were headed for Sacramento.

Mrs. Christensen said the car hit a reflector, went over an embankment between the halves of the highway, and rolled over several times.

Seventh-day Adventists to study Power of Christianity today

The power of Christianity to settle arguments even within the Church will be studied by the many Upland, Alta Loma and Ontario adult members of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, 856 North Sultana, Saturday, Jan. 20, at 10 a.m.

According to Marvin Abbott, Sabbath school director of the local church, the Saturday morning study recalls one of the most intense arguments of the early Christian church, one which concerned the conversion of heathen people to Christianity.

Abbott said members of the local church will study the record of the argument from the 15th chapter of the Biblical book of Acts. Members will gather in five classes taught by laymen of the church to discuss the story from the Bible.

"This argument of the early Christians as to what constitutes true conversion to Christianity has many lesssons for Christians today," said Abbott in announcing the special Saturday morning study.

"Far too many persons today are still mixed up in the argument of observance of various laws and rituals versus the grace of God which confused the early Christian church," noted Abbott. "A study of the Biblical record shows the Christian solution to the argument."

According to Abbott lay teachers of the Saturday morning classes at the local church will include: Harold Lance, 5291 Carnelian, Alta Loma; Virgil Eastarday, 1632 E. La Dene, Ontario; Earl Shafer, 255 N. Palm, Upland; Bill Wallis, 720 Quince, Upland; and Jim McLaughlin, assistant pastor, a ministerial student from La Sierra College, who teaches the visitor and new member class.

Young GOP chooses delegates

Selection of delegates from San Bernardino county to the annual California Young Republican convention was announced by county chairman Donna Jackson.

Robert Fitzsimmons of Victorville, Dick Reddick of Rialto, and Gage McShane of Borstow will join chairman Donna Jackson to represent San Bernardino County Young Republicans at the 1968 California Young Republican convention in Anaheim.

ALA state president will speak

Scheduled to make her official visit to the 25th district American Legion Auxiliary Feb. 4, is Mrs. Fred Keene, state president, The San Bernardino Unit 777, 194 E. 40th St., will be hostess unit for the event. The meeting will begin at 10 a.m. with recess at noon for lunch.

Other state officials from this area attending will be Mrs. Ethel Marsh, state past president, Upland Unit 73 and Mrs. Arthur A. Novelli, Ontario Unit 112, State Hospital chairman.

All members of all units are invited to attend this very important meeting when Mrs. Keene will speak on the various required programs and projects of the American Legion Auxiliary which are necessary to maintain membership in this, the largest patriotic organization of American women.

Families of hospitalized veterans received Christmas packages with approximately 90 children as recipients of this project. More than 1000 gifts were wrapped and distributed to veteran families and patients at Patton Hospital through the annual Christmas Gift Shop and Veteran Party program. Both programs were most successful and appreciated by all those participating.

Members were informed that the national organization of the American Legion Auxiliary will petition that the wording on the tomb of the unknown soldier be changed to include all unknown servicemen of all wars wherever and whoever they be. Units are asked to send resolutions requesting the change.

Units in the West End are reminded that the Americanism essay programs should be well on their way in all the schools and the Girl Scout representative and alternate will be selected very soon. Montclair, Upland and Ontario Units are eligible to send representatives from their high schools.

At the last 25th district meeting 8 units had obtained their quota of membership and it is expected that many more will have reached their goal before Jan. 31, when dues will be delinquent.

It is also important that each unit inform the schools of the many scholarships available if the student qualifies and answers every question on the application forms which are available through the local units.

Students should check with their high school counselors far in advance. Many students are eligible through the veteran parent for benefits under the new Junior G.I. Bill.

Those units that have not made their donations to the Christmas Gift Shop or the rehabilitation programs should do so at once, according to Mrs. Arthur Novelli, chairman.

ken of the Upland First National Bank and Mrs. James Britain, far right with Milton Stone of Medco Realty. Proceeds from the event were donated to the March of Dimes.

Junior Round-up flushes big $$

The Upland business and professional men who co-operated with the Junior Women's Club "Operation Reward" Jan. 9 opened their hearts and their pocketbooks to the tune of $1,100 to aid the March of Dimes in its fight against birth defects. The Upland Inn was the setting for the "Secret Hide-away" to which willing victims were transported by their abductors. Refreshments, donated by local bakeries and a local dairy, were served by the kidnappers.

A surprise "arrest" of the day took place when the Upland Juniors captured the entire Upland Kiwanis Club during their luncheon meeting at the Inn.

Mrs. Donald Hall, health chairman of the Juniors, said, "We thank the Kiwanis for being such nice hostages and for contributing so generously to the March of Dimes."

Although a number of the 265 selected victims managed to escape the notorious feminine kidnappers, the venture was termed most successful by Mrs. Hall. She stated, "The girls in our club wish to express their sincere appreciation to all of those businessmen who cooperated with us so graciously on this most important project. They will be remembered!

"They have not only helped to make possible additional care for those children in this area afflicted with birth defects, but have also done a great deal to increase the prestige of their community."

Students plan SWF dinner

The Associated Student Body of Alta Loma High School is planning a spaghetti dinner on Saturday, Jan. 27 from 4:30 to 8:30 p.m. to raise money for the Student Welfare Fund.

The money will be used by students whose families need help in obtaining such things as dental work, glasses, and clothing.

The money will be dispensed by the school nurse and the ALHS counselors. There is a yearly average of $250 in the fund which comes from the dinner proceeds. Last year, $260 was raised at the dinner which was attended by 550 guests.

Tickets will be sold in the Student Book Store and by members of the Student Council. The prices are $1 for adults and 50 cents for children. A family ticket can be purchased for $4.

Dimes March

A March of Dimes Drive will be conducted in the Cucamonga and Alta Loma area from now until the end of the month of January.

M. J. Ripley, Cucamonga director, and Floyd Stork, Alta Loma director, have agreed on a special project to raise funds for the National March of Dimes in the adjoining communities.

Local businessmen and merchants will be expected to do the part when called upon by members of the Alta Loma High School Key Club on January 27, Ripley said.

Area students receive honors at Cal Poly

Two Upland and one Alta Loma High alumni will be honored at California State Polytechnic College, Pomona, when they will be presented certificates for Honors at Entrance at the college, Wednesday, Jan. 17 at 7:30 p.m. in the Campus Gold Room.

Alta Loma High graduate Albert Layman, a mathematics major, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Layman of 9443 Alder St., Cucamonga.

Upland High graduates, Janet Johnson, an animal science major, is the daughter of Mrs. Helen Johnson of 1778 N. Second Ave., Upland, and Roger Keller, an electronic engineering major, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Keller of 1271 Tulare Way, Upland.

In order to qualify, a high school graduate must have earned a grade point average of 3.5 for all classes carried in the last three years, excluding physical education or military science.

Camp Fire Girls candy sale begins

Let's set a precedent -- A sale to every resident will be the goal of Camp Fire Girls, Mount San Antonio Council as they begin their annual candy sale on Jan. 19 running through Feb. 6. The same three kinds of chocolate candies as sold last year will be available: Pecan Prizes, Chocolate Mint Sticks and Assorted Chocolates. Each box sells for $1.

The Mount San Antonio Council is financed partly by the United Way and partly through their own efforts. Selling candy is their major self-support program.

Candy sale profits help groups with their projects as well as bring used to finance the new training center at 2288 N. Towne Ave., Pomona.

Part of the profits will be used also to help finance the council's camping program, operating budget and to help pay off the mortgage on the second camp purchased five years ago.

The Camp Fire Girls organization in the Council has set its goal at 100,000 boxes this year. For each box sold above the basic average of 24 per girl in a group, the profit will increase from 5 to 10 cents.

30-pound parcels can be sent by air overseas

Packages up to 30 pounds for American military personnel served by Army and Fleet Post Offices overseas now can be sent by air transportation at special low rates. Postmaster John James pointed out this week.

"Area residents using this new airtel service will get much faster delivery on parcels to military personnel overseas," Postmaster James said. He said the airtel is available on a space-available basis upon payment of the domestic parcel post surface rate plus a flat $1 fee.

Packages weighing up to 30 pounds and not more than 60 inches in combined length and girth qualify for the new special airtel rate, the Postmaster said.

Postal patrons may get the airtel service on packages mailed to all military personnel at APO and FPO addresses overseas, and in Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico. The Postmaster noted that the new airtel also applies to parcels mailed back to the States by servicemen from these military post offices.

Parcels on which the $1 fee is paid get air transportation all the way -- from here to the port of embarkation, and from there to the overseas base. Postal patrons formerly had to pay air parcel post rates to get similar service, the Postmaster said.

He said that in many instances the new airtel rates are considerably below comparable air parcel post charges. He cited these examples:

*A mother here sending a 15-pound package to her son in Vietnam pays $2.65 for the new airtel service. The air parcel post rate for the same package is $8.23.

*An eight-pound package going from here to an APO or FPO for delivery in Frankfort, Germany, costs $3.20 under the airtel service. The air parcel rate is $7.28.

The Postmaster pointed out, however, that it is not always to the mailer's advantage to use the airtel service. On some light packages air parcel post rates may be lower than the airtel charges.

"Postal patrons should check with the Post Office for information on the best way to mail parcels to servicemen overseas," the Postmaster emphasized.

The new airtel service went into effect Jan. 7. It was authorized under the postal rate bill signed into law Dec. 16 by President Johnson.

The Postmaster explained that the regular postage on parcels mailed to servicemen overseas is based on the distance the package is hauled within the United States. No charge is made for carrying the package between the U.S. port and the overseas base.

Until Jan. 7 airtel for parcels to servicemen overseas was restricted to packages weighing up to five pounds. Upon payment of the regular parcel post rates, these packages get surface transportation to the port of embarkation and are airtel from there to the overseas posts on a space available basis.

There is no charge for this partial airtel and overseas parcels weighing up to five pounds will continue to receive this service, the Postmaster said.

struction, and others soon will be.

It was April 19, 1966, close to two years ago, that Chamber of Commerce Manager, acting for the Chamber, appeared at a City Council meeting and asked that a downtown revitalization committee be appointed. It was.

Members of the committee are:

Roger Olson, Chairman, merchant; Dwight Bert, Merchant-landlord; James Marr, Landlord; Jack Atwood, Merchant; Bill Silverthorne, Merchant; Robert Cameron, Planning Commissioner; Ronald Rossiter, Councilman; Zella Stone, Councilman; Elvin Alder, City Manager; Fred Blanchard, City Engineer; Donald Maroney, City Attorney; and Paul Hershey, Landscape Architect.

Parking was considered the key to a successful revitalization program. Other cities' experiences were weighed and building malls before parking proved to be putting the cart before the horse.

In September, 1966, Paul Hotel, as chairman, with Roger Olson and Jack Atwood got to work as a parking committee. At a Sept. 16 meeting 56 merchants agreed that parking and revitalization were of vital importance.

The three men got enough signatures to "win a victory at City Council" as reported in the Upland News Oct. 21.

There had been some criticism of downtown merchants that there was no precise plan for revitalizing the downtown area, Mayor James Christensen at one time claimed that the downtown area was "dying on the vine."

However a seven-point plan for revitalization was submitted in answer to the criticism in Oct. 66.

What was done with the parking and promotion district, which is financed by the merchants, was treated with the mall project--enough signatures of property owners to cause City Council to proceed with preparation of plans, much of which was done by City Engineer Fred Blanchard.

It was June 21, 1967, when the News could report that enough signatures had been obtained.

Since then plans were drawn, bids called, plans and procedures revised, and now comes the big day, Tuesday, Jan. 23, 1968, the culmination of Chamber and City work.

Scientific methods for MWD block vote reapportionment urged

Shifting reapportionment shores from the legislature to a commission of experts in public administration is the goal of an Uplander, a Cal Poly, Pomona professor who believes scientific methods should be applied to redistricting.

Assistant Professor Bruce Wilson of the Social Sciences faculty has been granted a leave of absence for the winter quarter to prepare district maps and support data "to demonstrate the technico-legal feasibility of scientific reapportionment."

He will seek to demonstrate that a rational scientifically defensible redistricting can be achieved by creative use of electronic data processing techniques. Wilson has been particularly active in the application of electronic data processing techniques to political science.

"By using up-to-date scientific methods involving the computer, I am confident a redistricting can be accomplished which will take into account geographic and other factors which a mere 'head counting' would undoubtedly ignore," he comments.

Wilson joined the Social Sciences faculty of Cal Poly in 1963. Previously he taught at the University of Miami, Florida, and Mt. San Antonio College. He has been a radio announcer and program director.

Wilson earned his B.A. from the University of Miami in 1960 and his M.A. from the Claremont Graduate School, 1966.

His wife, D.G., teaches English and speech at Mt. San Antonio College. The Wilsons and their four children, Barbara, 13, Ward, 11, Wayne, 9, Janice, 8 reside at 1571 N. First St., Upland.

allowed one vote for each $10 million of assessed valuation. Under the unit vote, each director then casts his votes as a bloc.

Thus, if a member has 60 votes and its directors cast 32 votes for a motion and 28 votes are cast against the entire 60 votes are counted for the motion.

Stark suggested to the assemblymen that legislation be introduced changing the voting procedure so that each director casts his votes as an individual.

Stark restated that after the October directors' meeting in which the decision to postpone the Rialto Reach project occurred, Jensen was charged with using his power to twist the arms of certain directors, forcing them to vote for the abandonment of the Rialto Reach.

In connection with the unit vote, Stark testified that "Chino Basin Municipal Water District has long been aware of the crushing political power exerted by the chairman of the MWD board (Jensen) through use and abuse of the unit vote system."

After Stark concluded his argument before the committee, Jensen told them that Stark's accusations were "the charges of a disappointed group." Later, he told newsmen: "I've been criticized before and I guess I'll live through this latest criticism."

Helicopter crashes with loss of power

A helicopter, piloted by Edward Miller of South Gate, made a crash landing Monday afternoon in a vineyard just north of Foothill Blvd. on the east side of Haven Ave. in Cucamonga.

Miller had two unidentified passengers with him at the time of the crash, who witnesses said, disappeared before San Bernardino County Sheriff's Deputies arrived.

Miller was taken to San Antonio Community Hospital where he was listed in good condition with possible back injuries at press time.

Deputies stated that witnesses on the scene said they had seen the helicopter coming at tree top level northbound from Foothill. They added that they heard the engine being revved as the craft started to smoke and continued to descend.

After its descent, informants told the deputies that two persons departed from the copter and entered a vehicle prior to the arrival of authorities.

Investigation of the helicopter revealed that it belonged to Van Nuys Helicopters Inc., 16700 Roscoe, Van Nuys.

Nothing like real test

A Chaffey College language professor's students will get an opportunity to apply their French-speaking skills at a Chino French restaurant, Jan. 25.

"The real challenge comes when the students strike up table talk with the French - Basque waitresses," said prof. Joseph E. Reynolds.

Reynolds teaches an evening course in conversational French which is to be offered again in the spring semester. He prides himself in placing his students in real life situations to increase their proficiency in the language.

"I can't imagine a better real life language exposure close to home than socializing in the Centro Basco French restaurant," Reynolds commented.

The event serves also as a celebration marking the end of a semester and the start of another one in conversational French. The 14 members of the current class have been with Reynolds for four semesters. Former students wishing to participate in the 6:30

CAPITOL COMMENTS

A REPORT TO THE DISTRICT
WILLIAM E. COOMBS
SENATOR 20TH DISTRICT

Before the 1968 Legislative Session started, it was widely predicted that it would be shot through with election year politics. Speaker Unruh has already announced his price for reform of the tax structure. The lines are drawn for a partisan battle on Medi-Cal.

Partisan moves are under way to win the votes of such groups as teachers, senior citizens and minority groups in the year's elections.

Now comes the opening of the new session of the Legislature. With it comes the election of a President Pro Tem of the Senate. In theory, the "pro tem" merely presides over the Senate in the absence of the Lieutenant Governor. In practice, the job is vitally important because as Chairman of the potent Rules Committee, the "pro tem" wields great power over committee appointments.

Last August, in an impressive display of party unity, the Republicans joined forces to elect Judge Milton Marks to the Senate seat left vacant by the death of J. Eugene McAteer. That gave the Republicans 20 seats with the Lieutenant Governor to break any 20 to 20 ties. Since that time, Republican leaders confidently predicted that the President Pro Tem of the new session would be a Republican.

One of the active candidates for the job was Senator Jack McCarthy. However, when it appeared that 17 of the 20 Republican Senators preferred Senator Donald Grunsky, McCarthy announced that he would vote for the present incumbent, Democrat Senator Hugh Burns.

The 20 Democrat Senators, despite some dissension in their own ranks, immediately lined up behind Burns and his election was assured. They also lined up behind the candidacy of Senators McCarthy and Schrade, the present Republican members of the Rules Committee for re-election to those important jobs.

This left most Republican Senators in a dilemma. Their effectiveness in serving their districts lay, to a considerable extent, in their committee assignments. These, in turn, would be under the control of the Rules Committee.

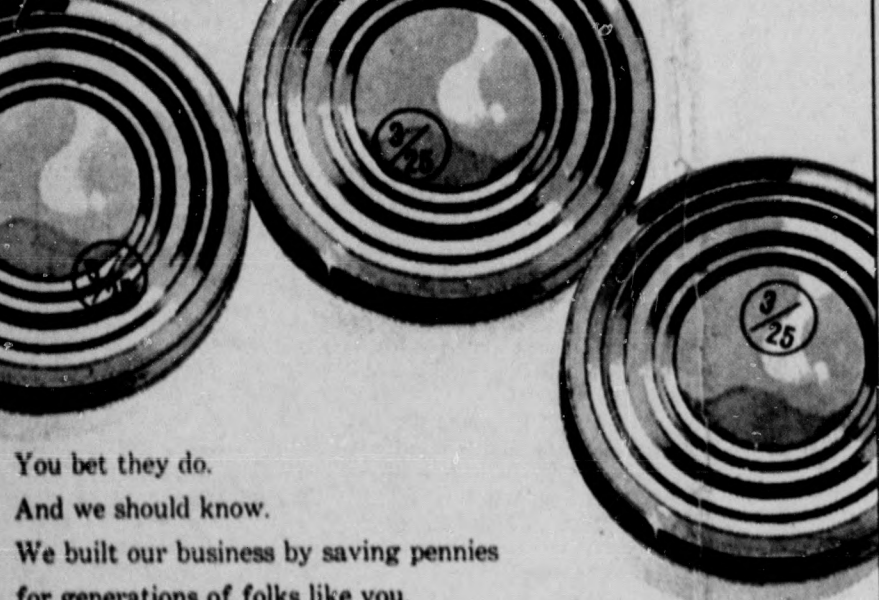

If they voted for a Democrat for President Pro Tem, and for the return to the Rules Committee of McCarthy, whose vote made possible the re-election of Senator Burns as "pro tem", they would face an outraged Republican party at home. If, on the other hand, they voted against the sure winners, Burns, McCarthy and Schrade, they would be risking the loss of favorable committee assignments and so reduce their effectiveness in serving their districts. Fortunately, all the candidates were able, sincere men and so regardless of who won high quality leadership was assured.

In making my own choice, the district came first and I voted for the incumbents.

do pennies make a difference in your food bill?

You bet they do.

And we should know.

We built our business by saving pennies for generations of folks like you.

For instance, take our policy on multiple-priced items.

If an item is priced 3 for 25¢, the price for one is obviously 9¢.

But what happens if you want two?

Do you pay 2 times 9¢ or 18¢?

Not at A&P.

We sell it at 2 for 17¢.

That's the fair way -- the A&P way.

Yes, in the food business...

in food budgeting, pennies make a difference.

We watch them for you and for us.

Is this a good reason for shopping A&P? It's one of many.

Civilians sought here for work in Vietnam

The Federal government will embark on a week-long talent-hunt in this area beginning next Monday, Jan. 22, to find civilians who can assist the pacification efforts in the villages and hamlets of Vietnam. The search will end the following Saturday.

Carrying the slogan: "Be Where The Need Is!" the recruitment effort will cover an area within a 50-mile radius of Los Angeles, including this community. The goal is 1,200 qualified applicants.

Jobs pay from $5,000 to $19,000 a year, plus a 25 per cent hardship bonus, furnished quarters, medical care, family allowances, and other benefits.

A temporary headquarters will be set up in the Federal Building, 300 N. Los Angeles St., Los Angeles. Applicants may call for an appointment during recruitment week only on a special telephone line, (213) 688-3476. Collect out-of-town calls will be accepted.

combat training and then, after leave at home, will report to his first Marine Corps Assignment.

The intensified Marine recruit training emphasizes rigid physical conditioning and survival techniques, both at sea and ashore, to develop self-confidence and endurance. Congressman Jerry L. Pettis, 33rd District, was named one of the dozen most influential of the 48 new Republican House Members in a recent Christian Science Monitor article by Lyn Shepard.

The Monitor article said, "About a dozen of the new Congressmen showed a special political flair, and in so doing, seemed to monopolize press coverage given the group. The first-term members showed promise on the House floor, in committee work, in informal party circles, and as 'idea men' in developing new issues."

The article described Representative Pettis as "not far from the center" of the inner group of outstanding new Republican Congressmen.

"The first term leaders", the article stated, "steered their group, taking a stand on several issues before the House in 1967: increased Social Security benefits, extension of the Teacher Corps, congressional reform in general, and formation of a House Ethics Committee."

The Monitor article concluded "in urging these and other positions, the inner-circle members were deliberately outspoken - at times even trash. They managed to lay to waste completely the axiom that a new congressman should leave the talking to his elders."

Children's Carousel Concert to feature local piano artists

Two girl pianists will participate in the fourth annual Carousel Concert for Children, to be given by the West End Symphony Orchestra on Wednesday, Jan. 24, in Gardiner Spring Auditorium 1245 North Euclid Ave.

Featured keyboard parts of the "Carnival of the Animals" by Saint-Saens will be played by Joyce Wright, 16, of Pomona, and Chloe Damus, 17, of Loma Linda.

Joyce is a junior at Ganesha High School and has been studying piano for nine years. She is accompanist for the Concert Choir and the Madrigal Singers at Ganesha High, and also plays the cello in the school orchestra.

For the past three summers she has attended the University of Redlands Music School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wright.

Chloe is a senior at Redlands High School. She has been studying piano for 10 years. In October she appeared as soloist with the University of Redlands Symphony Orchestra, playing the third movement of Mendelssohn's "G Minor Concerto". The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Damus, she also plays the flute in the school orchestra.

Another feature of this year's Carousel Concert will be the appearance with the orchestra of 100 youthful string players from the Ontario-Montclair and Chaffey District school orchestras.

Pupils of the violin, bass, viola and cello will participate in the performance of "Concerto Grosse for String Orchestra" by R. Vaughan Williams.

Other works to be played by the orchestra under the direction of conductor Robert Cole include "Russian Dance" from "Petrouchka" by Stravinsky, with Miss Damus playing the piano parts; "Concertante" by Mozart, and excerpts from "Billy the Kid" by Copland.

The program will be given twice on the same afternoon since previous experience has shown that even the huge Spring auditorium cannot accommodate all of the children who wish to attend.

The first performance will be given at 2:30 p.m. for Ontario-Montclair district pupils, and the second at 4 p.m. for youngsters from the Upland, Alta Loma, Cucamonga, Etiwanda, Chino, Rialto and Fontana districts, and the parochial schools.

The event is sponsored by the West End Symphony Orchestra Association and Mrs. Harvey Wood, executive secretary, is serving as general chairman.

Scholarship deadline set

Deadline for filing UCLA scholarship applications is approaching according to Barry A. Knight, Chairman of the Pomona District Scholarship Committee of the UCLA Alumni Association. All necessary forms must be received at UCLA by Feb. 9, 1968.

Applications for Alumni, Regents' and University awards are still available from counselors at local high schools. UCLA Alumni Association scholarships ranging from $350 to $500 will be awarded by the local committee. The amount of funds available to this group is determined by the number of valid applications received from local high schools, Knight said.

Each new year usually brings with it a pause. A few moments to reflect on the year past; to think about hopes and plans for the future. Traditionally, some very personal resolutions.

Businesses make resolutions, too. Not just forecasts, projections and timetables. But unlike most businesses, we at Claremont Savings understand that resolutions are meaningless unless our policies and philosophies fit the needs and plans of our customers and those we hope to serve during the period ahead. For our growth is inseparably linked to yours.

We therefore approach each new year with a fresh outlook. With renewed vision. A knowledge that the events of the past are only a foundation upon which to build a better future.

Though we look back with pride to our record of safety and highest insured savings rate, we look ahead to new milestones of service. We rededicate ourselves to this great valley...our home and yours. We will constantly endeavor to foster progress and growth and be challenged to keep pace with the ever-changing needs of our friends and neighbors.

We are indeed a community-minded savings association. Our roots are deep and will continue to thrust deeper. We welcome the challenge of the new year. And we again welcome you...to help you achieve your plans for a better future. Our sincere wishes for a most prosperous and healthy 1968.

Coaching seminar slated by Chaffey

Two 12-week courses in advanced football and track coaching, featuring top mentors, have been scheduled at Chaffey college for the spring semester.

The courses, each carrying three units of graduate credit, will be presented by Cal State at Los Angeles and Azusa Pacific College.

The track and field class will meet on Wednesdays, beginning Jan. 24 and ending April 17; the football sessions, Thursdays, Jan. 25-April 18. Hours for both classes will be 7-10 p.m.

Football guest lecturers will be such football coaches as Ron Seigrist, Don White, Sam Booghosian, John Herman, Dick Coury, Jim Camp, Hal Sherbeck, Ed Cavanaugh, Myrel Moore and Don Warhurst.

Addressing the track class will be such notables as Chuck Coker, Jim Bush, Bud Winter, Bob Schul, Perry O'Brien, Dixon Farmer, Jim Klein, Dick Bank, Steve Haas, John Dobroth and Ron Morris.

Both courses will deal with the methods of physical conditioning for each sport, organization and practice, fundamentals, techniques, principles and philosophy.

In each case, registration and payment of fees will take place at the first three meetings. The fee is $45, payable by check or money order to Cal State (L.A.) Football Trust Account.

For further information, call Chaffey director of athletics Willie Richardson or track coach Chuck Hicks. Telephones are 987-1737, 822-7456 and 626-9811.

I GIVE UP -- members of the Alta Loma High School Key Club prepare to carry Ted Vath, owner of the Cucamonga Drug Store, off to parts unknown to hold him for ransom as a part of the 1968 March of Dimes Drive in the Cucamonga area. Key Club members will be "kidnapping" local businessmen and merchants on Saturday, Jan. 27. So beware.

Zinda gets college coaching position

Coach John D. Zinda of Royal Oak High School, Covina, has been named head football coach for the combined Claremont Men's College-Harvey Mudd College Stags. It was announced by William Arce, director of athletics.

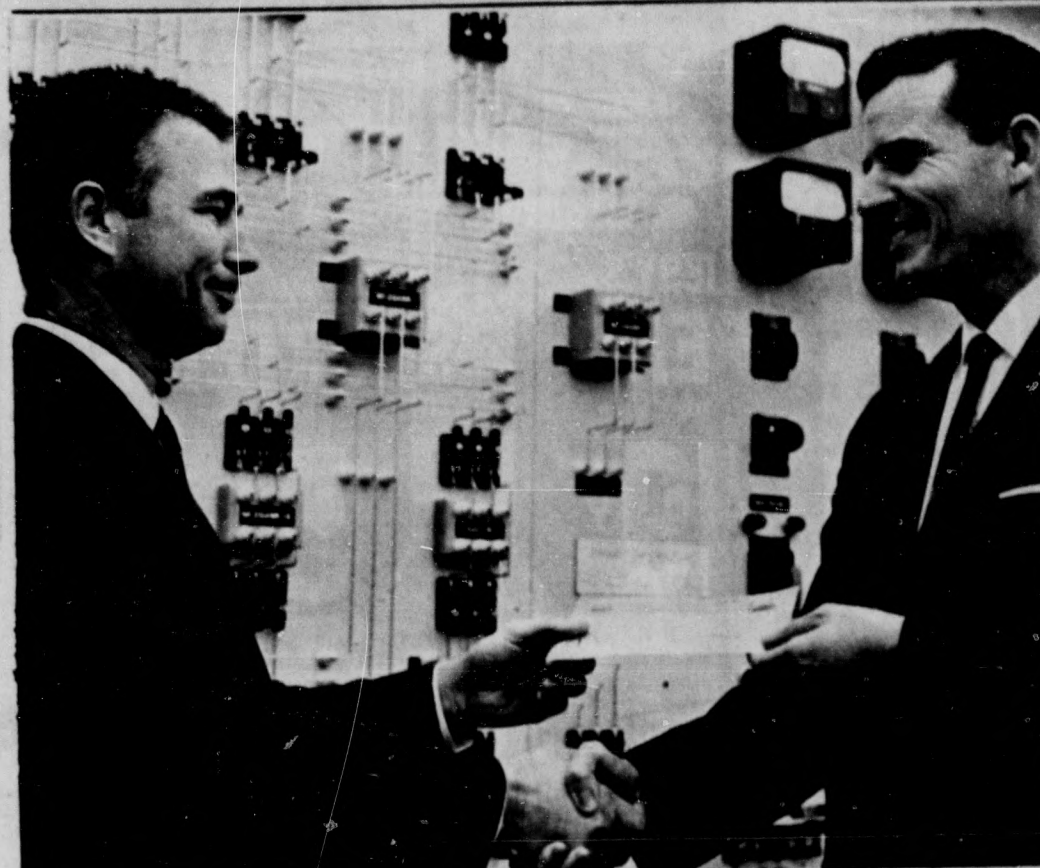

The resignation of Don Stalwick, coach of the Stags since 1965, was announced at the same time. Stalwick will announce his future plans within a few days.

Named Coach - of - the Year for the San Gabriel Valley after a 12-0 gridiron record, which won the CIF-2-A championship this past season, Zinda has been at Royal Oak as head coach since 1965. In his first year there, his team won six of nine contests for the conference title with only freshmen and sophomores on the roster at the new high school. With three classes of students in 1966, Royal Oak had a 7-2 record for third place.

From 1962 until 1964, Zinda served as backfield coach for the Claremont-Mudd Stags under head coach Jim Williams. The latter is current head coach at Cal State, Los Angeles.

A native Californian, Zinda was born in Inglewood and attended Los Angeles city schools. He is a graduate of Cal State, Los Angeles. He and his wife Susan reside in Cucamonga with their five children.

Chaffey to initiate new library course

Chaffey College will initiate a library technology program in the spring semester with the first of seven projected courses.

The curtain-raiser course, Introduction to Books and Libraries, is scheduled for Tuesdays from 7 p.m. until 9 for a nine-week period. The instructor will be college librarian George C. Elser.

Registration for evening courses ends Jan. 31, with the spring semester beginning Feb. 5. Evening course enrollment hours are 6:30 p.m., Mondays through Thursdays.

The introductory course in the new program is designed to familiarize students and prospective library clerks and technicians with library resources and practices. It encompasses training in the uses of the card catalogue, indexes and reference books and in the preparation of bibliographies.

The six other library courses will be Reference Services, Technical Processes, Children's Literature, Public Services, Audio-Visual Services and Library Internship.

An advisory committee conducted a survey of career opportunities in library technology and determined the need for such a program. The survey was coordinated by the office of instruction here.

Agencies represented on the committee are Chaffey Union High School District, Chino Unified School District, Fontana Unified School District, Ontario Public Library, Ontario - Montclair School District, San Bernardino County Library, Upland Elementary School District, Upland Public Library and the college.

This committee was largely responsible for the development of the library curriculum.

YOUR ASSEMBLYMAN AT WORK

JOHN V. BRIGGS
35th District
CALIFORNIA STATE LEGISLATURE

An early observer of the capitol scene once declared that the State Legislature determines the citizen's political privileges and his immediate social relations, it regulates his civil rights and duties, secures him in the tenure of his property, and makes most of the rules that govern his daily movements.

Thus it was that we returned to Sacramento last week for our 1968 session with this illuminating appraisal of the role of the Legislature in our thoughts.

One of our first duties was to assemble in joint session to hear the Governor report on the "state of the state," during which he outlined an ambitious program for legislation in such fields as tax reform, government reorganization, campus unrest and other subjects.

As expected, the major emphasis was on money matters, particularly tax reform, which comprised about one-fifth of his message.

He noted $155 million had been set aside for the 1967 Legislature for property tax relief starting in July, and proposed directing this relief to the people through our educational system. One method would be by assuming the local property tax burden of the junior colleges, and another through the secondary school system.

In calling tax reform his priority aim for 1968, he noted the last time taxes were overhauled was in 1933, and subsequent "add-ons, gimmicks and gadgets" have resulted in a "crazy-quilt structure."

We were also told he would soon offer details of a major reorganization plan for the executive branch of the government. And, along the lines of reorganization, he will also propose a new system for the selection of judges which will divorce it from politics.

In discussing the problems of campus disorders, the Governor said he will propose trespass legislation to keep "disruptive non-students and trouble-makers from interfering with the orderly process of education."

Also, further attempts will be made to get legislation enacted to control the traffic in drugs and pornography, and to strengthen the fight against organized crime. He said he would also sponsor bills giving local authorities power to invoke emergency curfews and liquor controls to prevent riots.

A number of other subjects were mentioned, including:

Welfare--Legislation will be proposed requiring employable welfare recipients to accept job training or be dropped from the rolls.

Medi-Cal -- He restated his earlier position that the state's Medi-Cal supplement to the federal Medicare program must be reauthorized to permit economies "or it will bankrupt our state."

Transportation -- A proposal will be offered to allow local voters to determine what types of mass transit they want and how they want to finance it.

Job Training -- He will ask for the establishment of a Department of Human Resources Development to stimulate job training and job

Federal aid Income tax booklet available

"Your Federal Income Tax," a 160-page booklet on Federal taxes also known as Publication No. 17, is now available at most Internal Revenue Service offices throughout Southern California, according to F. S.

Schmidt, District Director of Internal Revenue.

The booklet covers in detail the Federal income tax laws as they apply to individuals. It contains many examples to illustrate application of the laws to actual situations.

Schmidt said the material is especially helpful to taxpayers who have unusual tax situations, or for those faced with a new tax problem for the first time. Examples of taxable and non-taxable income, and of allowable and non-allowable deductions are included. A detailed index helps pinpoint answers to tax problems.

A special feature of the booklet is the sample filled-in tax return, Form 1040, keyed to pages in the booklet where explanations can be found for the entries on the return.

The booklet may also be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402. The price is 50 cents.

Several entries have already been received, R. L. Howsley of San Bernardino, rodeo queen chairman announced. Others have indicated they wish to enter the contest, but have not yet officially filed applications.

Contestants must be 16-20 years of age inclusive, single and live in the county. Judging will be based upon beauty, figure, poise, public speaking, horsemanship, quality of mount and equipment.

United Fund 'Old hand' manages new Riviera store splits kitty

West End United Fund collected more money than ever before in its 1967 campaign, and Thursday announced allotments for 25 member agencies amounting to a record $280,352.

The total to be distributed, decided by the UF executive committee is some $40,000 more than was distributed a year ago.

There are actually 27 agencies in WEUF, but two, Cucamonga Girls Club and Mary Louise Griffith Heart Clinic did not submit a request and so were not included in the distribution. Collections and pledges in the 1967 campaign amounted to $322,811, or 96.4% of the 1967 goal. Executive Director Tom Vais called the drive successful.

A. L. Snow, chairman of the Budget Committee presented the distribution recommendation, which was adopted unanimously by the executive board.

American Red Cross with a $49,000 allocation led the list, followed by the Ontario-Upland YMCA, with $44,000, Boy Scouts of America with $37,100, Salvation Army with $33,000 and West End Family Counseling Service with $29,650. None got what they asked for.

Some money has come in since the campaign, which will be counted in with the 1968 drive, Vais told the Executive committee.

Following is a list of agencies, last year's allocation, their request for allocation this year, and their actual allocation this year:

American Red Cross, $46,400; $57,667; $49,000.

In making the allocations, the committee made these comments:

Boy Scouts: "The committee feels that self support, especially in the case of an organization such as the scouts, is paramount and that the inclination to rely on the United Fund to pick up the slack in this area is not appropriate. Special efforts to obtain sustaining membership income are recommended."

Camp Fire Girls: "Projected staff salary levels seem generous. The committee recommends that Mr. Vais prepare a letter to accompany the first quarter allocation suggesting the agency's board of directors reconsider proposed salary increases and insisting that the Chaffey district executive be placed on a full-time basis."

Salvation Army and Salvation Army Extension: "The substantial increase in this year's allocation recommendations was in recognition of the value and volume of services being performed. Also the increasing welfare cases being directed by county and local authorities to these agencies as a last resort is an expense that must be met."

Peace Corps placements set for January 20

Area residents interested in putting their skills to use in developing nations around the world are invited to take the Peace Corps Placement Test at 1:30 p.m. on Saturday, Jan. 20 at room 201, Post Office Building, 5th and D St., San Bernardino or room 204, Pomona Post Office.

The Peace Corps uses the placement test to determine how an applicant can best be utilized overseas. The test measures general aptitude and the ability to learn a language, not education or achievement. The test requires no preparation and is non-competitive; an applicant can neither pass nor fail.

Persons interested in serving with the Peace Corps must fill out an application, if they have not already done so, and present it to the tester before the test.

Application forms are available from post offices or from the Peace Corps in Washington, D. C. 20525.

Fifteen thousand volunteers are currently serving in Asia, Africa, Latin America and the Pacific Islands, working with the people of those nations in self-help projects ranging from food production to health to education.

More volunteers are needed for programs which will begin this spring and summer.

United Fund 'Old hand' manages new Riviera store splits kitty

West End United Fund collected more money than ever before in its 1967 campaign, and Thursday announced allocations for 25 member agencies amounting to a record $280,352.

The total to be distributed, decided by the UF executive committee is some $40,000 more than was distributed a year ago.

There are actually 27 agencies in WEUF, but two, Cucamonga Girls Club and Mary Louise Griffith Heart Clinic did not submit a request and so were not included in the distribution. Collections and pledges in the 1967 campaign amounted to $322,811, or 96.4% of the 1967 goal. Executive Director Tom Vais called the drive successful.

A. L. Snow, chairman of the Budget Committee presented the distribution recommendation, which was adopted unanimously by the executive board.

American Red Cross with a $49,000 allocation led the list, followed by the Ontario-Upland YMCA, with $44,000, Boy Scouts of America with $37,100, Salvation Army with $33,000 and West End Family Counseling Service with $29,650. None got what they asked for.

Some money has come in since the campaign, which will be counted in with the 1968 drive, Vais told the Executive committee.

Escrow courses offered

An evening study program keyed to the California Escrow Certificate is scheduled for the spring semester at Chaffey College.

The certificate is jointly conferred by the college and the California Escrow Association.

Escrow Procedures I will be offered on Thursday from 7 to 10 p.m. with Frank W. Spiatt as instructor. Spiatt, for the past year was CEA president.

Another required course, Legal Aspects of Real Estate, will be available at the same hours on Mondays. The instructor will be Ontario attorney Lewis J. Liesch.

Gilbert Howard, real estate coordinator here, said that the program was designed to meet the need for trained escrow personnel by the business community. He reported that employment opportunities exist in such businesses as banks, savings and loan associations, title insurance companies and escrow firms.

Registration hours are 6:30 - 9 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays, for the rest of the current month. The semester starts Feb. 5.

Two other colleges are co-operating with Chaffey in the escrow program schedule for student convenience. Escrow Procedures II will be offered by Mt. SAC on Tuesdays and by San Bernardino Valley on Thursdays.

Don't throw out this year's Christmas cards, Sabbath School Superintendent Elmer Cornwell of the Ontario Seventh-day Adventist church wants to send them to the Philippines, where they'll be used to brighten the lives of youngsters attending vacation Bible schools.

Supt. Cornwell said the cards will be sent to Adventist mission headquarters in Manila, Cebu City, and Davao City.

From these cities they'll be sent to the 7,100 islands that have vacation Bible schools next summer.

"We can't help thinking," the superintendent said, "of the millions of Christmas cards that were purchased, sent, briefly glanced at, and then burned. Many of these cards can be put to good use where they're appreciated in vacation Bible schools in the Philippines."

Persons wishing to contribute their old cards are asked to omit those depicting Santa Claus and Rudolph. Only the front of the cards are useful.

"Folks can save us a lot of time," the superintendent said, "if they will snip off the attractive front covers and throw the other part away."

Cards may be left at or sent to Mrs. Hazel Shafer, 255 N. Palm Ave., Upland, 91786, or to Mrs. Lou Cornwell, 122 E. I St., Ontario before Jan. 25. Persons who can't deliver or send their cards may call 982-2671 or 984-5952 for pickup service.

Many Adventist churches in the United States and Canada are participating in the project.

The cards will be used to give to children who have perfect Bible school attendance or who learned memory verses. Some will be made into pretty boxes or "purses."

Adventists want old Yule cards

News commentator Baxter Ward will be the featured speaker when Chaffey College hosts the California Business Education Association conference, Feb. 17.

Ward, KABC - Channel 7 news director, will address the CBEA's southern section members at a noon luncheon at campus center.

The 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. conference will be centered on the use of audio-visual aids in teaching. Representatives of business firms and services will demonstrate new audio-visual techniques.

The CBEA membership comprises business teachers on the junior high school and college levels.

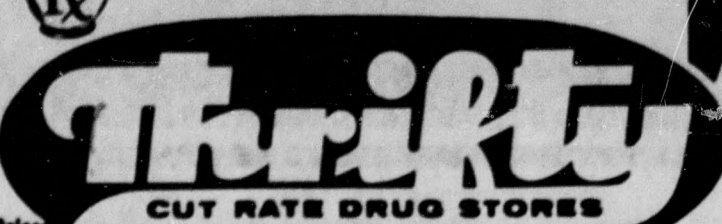

Gilbert Estale of the Chaffey College business education division is coordinating the conference.
